Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 23 May 2005.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of claims 1-6 in the reply filed on 05/23/05 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-4 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cruickshank et al (US 6,888,927).

Regarding claim 1, Cruickshank teaches a method comprising: receiving information from a caller via a wireless device (column 8, lines 20-38, see "mobile telephone"), communicating the information to an external computing device (column 8, lines 20-38, see "terminal devices 14 and 16", and see fig.1, Cruickshank's "terminal devices 14 and 16" read on applicant's "external computing device"), locating contact information for the caller using at least one of a name and phone number of the caller (column 8, lines 20-38), and when the contact information for the caller is located (column 8, lines 20-38, see "calling number"), displaying the contact information for the caller on a display of the external computing device (column 8, lines 20-38, see "display").

Art Unit: 2686

Regarding claim 2, Cruickshank further teaches when the contact information for the caller is not located, creating a new contact record for the caller including at least one of the name and phone number of the caller (see column 7 lines 48-52).

Regarding claim 3, Cruickshank teaches the external computing device receiving photo information for the caller from the wireless device (see column 7, lines 56-66), and including the photo information in the new contact record for the caller (see column 7, lines 3-14).

Regarding claim 4, Cruickshank teaches providing contact information from contact manager logic to the wireless device (see column 7, lines 56-66), and communicating the contact information from the contact manager logic as one of an SMS, EMS, and MMS message (see Abstract, "message").

Regarding claim 6, Cruickshank teaches providing contact information from contact manager logic to the wireless device and storing the contact information from the contact manager logic in a memory of the wireless device (see Abstract and column 2, lines 21-27).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2686

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cruickshank et al (US 6,888,927) in view of Gerszberg et al (US 6,385,305).

Regarding claim 5, Cruickshank teaches claim 1. Cruickshank does not specifically disclose dragging the contact information from a GUI for the contact manager logic and dropping the contact information into a GUI for wireless device interface logic.

Gerszerg teaches dragging the contact information from a GUI for the contact manager logic and dropping the contact information into a GUI for wireless device interface logic (see column 9, lines 20-25).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the teaching of Gerszberg into the system of Cruickshank in order to provide user-friendly feature for the user.

Art Unit: 2686

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

- a. Gillespie (US 6,823,048) teaches calling name information caching.
- b. Worsham (US 6,868,268) teaches audio calling name and number delivery.
- c. Tanaka (US 6,574,468) teaches calling number delivery system.
